

SPIRITUALITY AND ETHICAL EDUCATION: NEW SIGNS AND ANALYSISSadikova Kamila Rustamovnateacher of Nukus branch ofUzbekistan state institute of arts and culturesadikovakamila007@gmail.com*

Summary: The article deals with the people of Uzbekistan respect national programs and customs, the family. It is necessary to educate young people on the basis of social personnel. In the educational process, it is advisable to create strong moral foundations with the observance of moral standards by young people, a combination of national idea and national spirituality.

Key words: spirituality, harmonization, profession, importance, cultural heritage.

Republic of Uzbekistan in the struggle for independence for many centuries, large-scale reforms have been carried out aimed at strengthening socio-economic norms. These processes are aimed at realizing the value of national and universal personnel, educating the young generation by patriots, strengthening the role and significance of the family. Family personnel plays an important role in the development of the child. The family plays an important role in the legacy of spiritual cadres and programs, the younger generation. The people of Uzbekistan respect national programs and customs, the family. Attention is also required to the role and significance of the family in raising the younger generation. It is necessary to establish relationships between family members, create a harmonious environment, educate young people, choose a profession and show the right ways to build the future.

It is necessary to educate young people on the basis of social personnel. In the educational process, it is advisable to create strong moral foundations with the observance of moral standards by young people, a combination of national idea and national spirituality.

The large-scale reforms carried out by the State in the Republic of Uzbekistan in the field of educating the young generation are aimed at fostering morality on the basis of respect for the family and universal human resources.

Since the family is the basis of society, the moral cadres in it are spiritually strengthened in the conditions of New Uzbekistan, which serves social security.

The processes of spiritual development of Uzbekistan in the era of independence are aimed at further strengthening personnel and social and moral standards related to the family.

The personnel belonging to the family are taken from the historical and cultural experience of our people and today play an important role in the upbringing of the younger generation. The family serves as the main support of spiritual and moral personnel in our state and serves to educate young people, respect for national programs and customs.

The attitude of the people of Uzbekistan to the family is of great importance for the child brought up in it. In teaching the family world, choosing a profession, there is a sense of each participant. The expansion of spirituality in the family contributes to the upbringing of the morality of the younger generation.

Family is a social environment that for the first time imposes norms and personnel on a child in society. In this environment, all conditions will be created for a deep combination of the spiritual foundations of the family with the mental and spiritual growth of the child. During the period of independence of Uzbekistan, the family and its social norms of morality were further developed.

Respect and attention to the family is growing in society, which testifies to the strengthening of the role of the family in the upbringing of the younger generation of spiritual and cultural personnel. Youth are formed as a member of society, combining national cadres and customs with their families. In Uzbekistan, there are state institutions aimed at ensuring the safety of the population. In socio-ethical norms, the family system is also formed. State programmes and projects aimed at strengthening the family workforce are being widely implemented in Uzbekistan. In our society, the role of the family in educating young people with spiritual and moral education is important, because families play an important role in educating the young generation on the basis of spiritual cadres. In the new Uzbekistan, the family plays an important role in educating young people. The spiritual and educational work carried out under the auspices of the state helps to strengthen the respect of young people for their national cadres. The family occupies an important place in the harmonization of national programs and traditions for the younger generation, serves young people in society as independent and spiritual.

It is necessary to develop spiritual and educational work on the basis of new courses and competitions. This means educating the younger generation in a new era, forming a stable spiritual worldview in it, contributing to the transfer of the latest achievements of science and technology.

It is necessary to develop national spirituality, strengthen the cultural heritage of the people, connect young people with historical personnel and create spiritual guidelines. In these processes, it is advisable to prepare young people for spiritual changes using modern technologies, online platforms, and Internet resources.

References:

1. A. Erkayev. Ma'naviyat — millat nishoni. – Toshkent, “Ma'naviyat”, 1997.
2. O. Musurmonova. Ma'naviy qadriyatlar va yoshlar tarbiyasi. – Toshkent, “O'qituvchi”, 1996.
3. Imomnazarov M. Milliy taraqqiyotning ma'naviy-axloqiy asoslari. O'quv- uslubiy kompleks. – T.: Sharq, 2007.
4. To'ychieva G. Yoshlar va konfliktlar: konfliktlar yechimiga o'rganish. – T.: TGIV 2008.