Today our country is facing the world. In all areas, large-scale reforms, updates are being carried out intensively. In our country, the field of education, like any other field, is rising to the top. Updates, changes, innovations are being introduced in all branches of the educational system.

In Uzbekistan, a qualitative result is achieved using the lowest link of the educational system in stages from preschool education to higher education, higher education to the post-higher education system, step-by-step study of foreign languages, introduction of innovations, innovative approach, interactive methods, audio and video materials.

Among young people, there is an increasing number of young people who have achieved different levels of Language Proficiency Certification among upperclassmen, middle special and higher education students.

Considering information on the effectiveness of work in this regard, we can say scientific and practical conferences, conferences, round tables at the Republican and international levels that serve for the development of the field.

One of the similar measures was held on May 31, 2021 at the international scientific and practical conference on the topic "problems and prospects of teaching the language of domestic English." This event was organized by the Academy of the prosecutor general's Office of the Republic of Uzbekistan in cooperation with the mutual experience sharing group of teachers of English language (UzTESPING) of the non-philological higher education institutions of Uzbekistan under the Uzbekistan State University of world languages in the international scientific and practical video conference mode on "problems and prospects of teaching

This event was held in order to implement the tasks set out for the development of the industry and in the decision of the president of our country on May 19, 2021 "on measures to bring the activities of popularization of foreign language learning to a qualitatively new level in the Republic of Uzbekistan".

The conference took place in an environment of favorable scientific, creative, mutual exchange of experience for the exchange of ideas and experiences regarding the prospects for popularizing the study of English.

This conference was attended by members of UzTESPING, experts from the University of Warwick (UK), Tashkent International Westminster University, as well as consultants at the international level for teaching applied English. The participants of the event discussed current issues of teaching field English, systemic problems and shortcomings in the field and exchanged views on their solutions. Also, the participants of the conference got acquainted with the experience in teaching foreign languages at the prosecutor general's office, as well as modern methods used in the educational process. The conference took place in an environment of favorable scientific, creative, mutual exchange of experience for the exchange of ideas and experiences regarding the prospects for popularizing the study of English.

In the manner of interactive discussions and the results of the conference, the participants developed proposals to popularize the study of foreign languages and outlined measures aimed at further strengthening cooperation within UzTESPING.

It should be noted that the work on bringing the study of English to the top, eliminating existing shortcomings in the field, and bringing the development of the field to a high level of pressure is continuing. In order to support the teaching of English, the secret of good deeds as one such event was visited by 25 teachers from the United States, who work in cooperation with teachers from schools and universities in 11 regions of the country, conducting 10-month training and professional development programs will also serve for the development of the field.

25 English teachers visiting Uzbekistan from the United States conduct 10-month training and qualification programs throughout the country, and the direct teaching of students and students together with local teachers indicates that special attention is paid to the issue of international cooperation.

According to the USA Embassy in Tashkent, the group includes 17 American English teachers who teach together with local English teachers from the 10th grade of schools to the university level, as well as 8 experienced teachers (EL Fellows) who specialize in English teaching (TESOL) for speakers of other languages, which increases the teaching potential of English at the university level.

Fifteen of the American teachers are part of the U.S. State Department's Fulbright English teaching assistant (ETA) program, and two are ETA graduates who have previously participated in the U.S. Embassy's "English teaching" program in Tashkent in order to continue teaching English in Uzbekistan. These mentors include professionals with a master's degree in TESOL or related field and an average of 10 years of teaching experience.

USA Ambassador Jonathan Hennick noted that the ongoing program was "of great importance". "Teaching English does not mean teaching a single language, it is also an opportunity that helps students to form their thoughts not only about the language, but about the whole world," he emphasizes.

Teachers came from different parts of the United States — from California to Florida. Foreign teachers working in 11 regions of Uzbekistan serve as the cultural ambassador of the United States to promote mutual understanding between the United States and Uzbekistan.

Initiatives to teach English with the involvement of American professionals began in 2019 in cooperation with the US embassy and the Ministry of preschool and school education, the Ministry of Higher Education, Science and technology and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Uzbekistan.

These programs are part of a large-scale effort by the U.S. government to improve the teaching and learning of English in Uzbekistan. Since 2018, the US has invested over $ 28 million in teaching and learning English in Uzbekistan.

This assistance includes purchasing high-quality English textbooks for more than 10,000 schools nationwide and improving the skills of 15,000 English teachers in secondary schools.

Earlier, USAID's "Uzbekistan education program for perfection" for 2019-2023 was finalized. As part of the $ 29.5 million project, textbooks and teacher guides from four subjects were developed. The textbooks were experimented with in Sirdarya and Namangan regions for 4 years.

In place of the conclusion, it can be noted that today the formation of our youth as competitive personnel in accordance with the requirements of the time is a requirement of the period. From the above data, it can be concluded that in the following years, effective work is being carried out on learning English. In particular, the increased salary of Foreign Language teachers with a certificate of special language proficiency, the payment of surcharges, the granting of a number of benefits will certainly set the stage for the development of the field to rise to the top.
